DESIGN PASSION

The Luxury Projects design studio combines form and function to create a collection of beautifully crafted state-of-the-art pieces

Pomponi set up her architecture and design studio Luxury Projects in 2008, after learning her trade in the world of superyachts at a reputable shipyard. "What I actually like about the construction of a yacht is the intricacy of the process. It's like a DNA spiral, and I love solving these complex issues," she says.

With her team of 12, the Luxury Projects studio boasts an exceptional mix of expertise, from architecture, engineering and industrial design to visual communication, innovative lighting and arts masters.

Luxury Projects Atelier is where the worldwide research of state-of-the-art materials is matched and merged with the skills of local craftsmen, who combine unusual finishes with top-class serviceability to create bespoke designs. Whether it's interiors for homes, offices, yachts and private jets, bespoke furniture design or fashion, the studio fuses art and technology to create custom-made objects solely with the Luxury Projects customer in mind.

"I have never been afraid of experimenting with colour and texture," says Pomponi. "I get a lot of inspiration from my travels and also source a lot of materials, especially fabrics and leathers, while I'm away." Pomponi also likes to inject an element of surprise into her creations, whether through the use of unusual bespoke materials or by working with artisans she encounters on her travels to create a one-of-a-kind piece.

All designs are draped and embellished with rare materials, exclusive leathers, textiles and metals as well as the finest woods and stones from around the globe. The studio's vision is "Design for your life", creating opulent finishes and combining unexpected materials to create an element of intrigue.

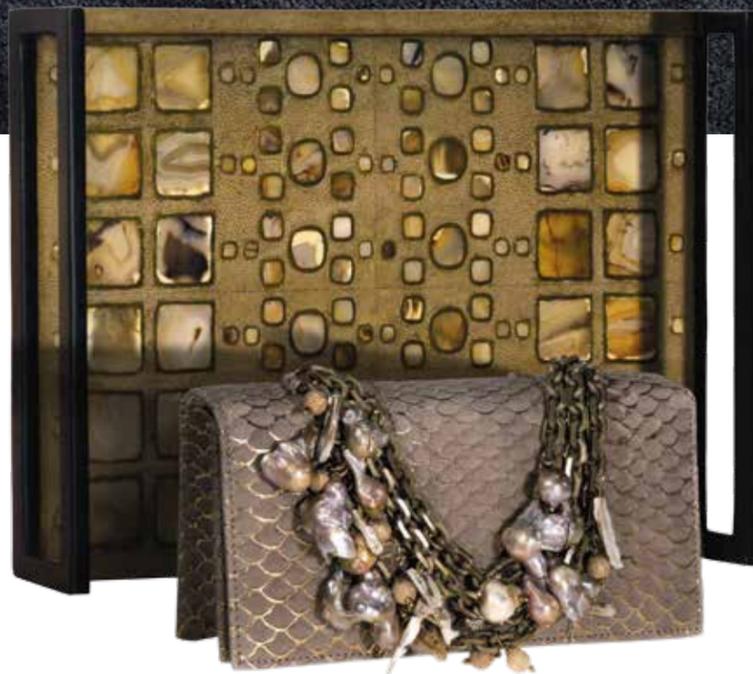

This is where fashion comes in. The Luxury Projects team guide clients through the whole process from design concept and sketches to completion, starting with ideas for unique shoes and bags, luxury bespoke design products and decorative accessories.

Designed to promote excellence and creativity, the pieces made by Luxury Projects come to life as the design process evolves, creating unique pieces that mirror the client's personality.

The dynamic mix of expertise allows Luxury Projects to keep at the forefront of design, creating bold new ideas with longevity.

Translating emotions and needs into physical shapes comes naturally to Luxury Projects - as you see the products there is an instant connection. With a passion for perfection, the team are devoted to producing bespoke timeless and functional objects for your life.
